About the Speaker: Mariela Sol Torroba Hennigen

Born in Argentina and raised in Brazil, Mariela grew up knowing Jesus. Her mother continues to be her role model of faith, hope, and charity. Her father fostered in her a habit to be self-reflexive about the world and people around her, and an enthusiastic storyteller.

Mariela and her older brother walked in faith together, until an experience in his life made him decide to 'graduate out' of faith. But that experience failed to discourage Mariela from her pursuit of Jesus.

It instead revealed tenderness in her heart and invited her into something greater she was yet to understand: her deeply personal relationship with Jesus.

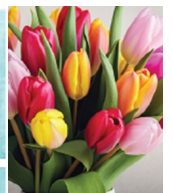

Coming to the University of Toronto Mississauga for her undergraduate studies and getting involved with her campus chaplaincy transformed Mariela's spiritual life.

Through the Catholic Christian Outreach's faith study series, Mariela learned more about different forms of prayer, especially journaling her thoughts and feelings as she heard God's gentle yet strong voice speaking to her, and especially overcame barriers and resistance for Confession.

Mariela's story demonstrates you can enjoy the fullness of university life without needing to 'graduate out' of faith.
